Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards bodies (ISO member bodies). The work of preparing International Standards is normally carried out through ISO technical committees. Each member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been established has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work. ISO collaborates closely with the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) on all matters of electrotechnical standardization.

The procedures used to develop this document and those intended for its further maintenance are described in the ISO/IEC Directives, Part 1. In particular the different approval criteria needed for the different types of ISO documents should be noted. This document was drafted in accordance with the editorial rules of the ISO/IEC Directives, Part 2 (see www.iso.org/directives).

Attention is drawn to the possibility that some of the elements of this document may be the subject of patent rights. ISO shall not be held responsible for identifying any or all such patent rights. Details of any patent rights identified during the development of the document will be in the Introduction and/or on the ISO list of patent declarations received (see www.iso.org/patents).

Any trade name used in this document is information given for the convenience of users and does not constitute an endorsement.

For an explanation on the meaning of ISO specific terms and expressions related to conformity assessment, as well as information about ISO's adherence to the WTO principles in the Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT) see the following URL: Foreword - Supplementary information

The committee responsible for this document is ISO/TC 106, Dentistry, Subcommittee SC 4, Dental instruments.

This second edition cancels and replaces the first edition (ISO 3630-3:1994), which has been technically revised with the following changes:

- a) name and definition of “condenser” was changed to “compactor”;
- b) differentiation between finger instruments and hand instruments was made in Clause 5 and Clause 7;
- c) plugger sizes 015 and 020 were deleted from Table 1;
- d) reprocessing requirements were added.

ISO 3630 consists of the following parts, under the general title Dentistry — Endodontic instruments:

- Part 1: General requirements and test methods
- Part 2: Enlargers
- Part 3: Compactors: pluggers and spreaders
- Part 4: Auxiliary instruments
- Part 5: Shaping and cleaning instruments

Dentistry — Endodontic instruments —

Part 3:

Compactors: pluggers and spreaders

1 Scope

This part of ISO 3630 specifies requirements and test methods for endodontic instruments used as pluggers and spreaders, used to compact endodontic filling materials not cited in ISO 3630-1, ISO 3630-2, ISO 3630-4, or ISO 3630-5.

This part of ISO 3630 specifies requirements for size, marking, product designation, safety considerations, and their labelling and packaging.

2 Normative references

The following documents, in whole or in part, are normatively referenced in this document and are indispensable for its application. For dated references, only the edition cited applies. For undated references, the latest edition of the referenced document (including any amendments) applies.
