EN 17984-4:2025 (E)Introduction

Training assistance dogs is a specialist skill requiring a clear understanding of positive reinforcement training methods and a focus on supporting the dog to achieve the requisite skills to perform tasks to increase independence and to mitigate limitations of a person with a disability.

High standards of dog welfare are critical to ensure each dog is able to thrive and support the handler effectively. The training standards outlined are the minimum required to ensure positive outcomes in terms of training assistance dogs.

It is important to reference EN 17984-2 (Dog lifetime welfare) when reading this document. Lifetime Welfare outlines the '5 Domains' model that underpins the welfare and wellbeing of assistance dogs.

In this document:

- “shall” indicates a requirement;
- “should” indicates a recommendation;
- “may” indicates a permission;
- “can” indicates a possibility or a capability.

Information marked 'Note' is for guidance in understanding or clarifying the associated sentence.

1 Scope

This document defines requirements for the training of assistance dogs. Assistance dogs can be trained by structured programmes/schools, owner-trained under supervision or owner-trainers.

Specifically, this document deals with the following topics:
